

ST. CLOUD AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

A program for the Next generation of business leaders

- Do you have an employee you would consider part of the next generation of St. Cloud area business leaders?
- Would you like your employee to grow a network of like-minded individuals while learning from today's business leaders?
- Now there is a place for future business leaders to grow in their role, and prepare for whatever comes next in areas such as work-life balance, using emotional intelligence in the workplace, new media, project management, selling, presentations to clients, and more.

New business contacts via structured interactions and small group activities...ideas and solutions about management issues...tried-and-true management strategies from current business leaders...opportunities to share your specialty or unique skills or expertise... formalized networking goals and follow-through with new contacts...new skills in the areas of emotional intelligence and individual leadership...
